Panelist

David Hoffman, General Manager of Toronto-Dominion Centre, the Cadillac Fairview Corporation Limited

David Hoffman is General Manager of Toronto-Dominion Centre, Canada's largest business community with over 4 million sq. ft. Responsible for the day-to-day operations of this iconic Mies van der Rohe designed complex, David has also been the driving force behind the sustainable transformation of the Centre, with a capital re- investment program exceeding $ 250 million. The Toronto-Dominion Centre has achieved complex wide LEED EB Platinum certification, and the 222 Bay St. Tower is the first existing building in North America to achieve the WELL Building Standard™ certification.

In addition, David's leadership has resulted in the successful development of industry leading green initiatives, including the TDC Green Council, a tenant/landlord advisory body, Downtown Toronto's largest Living Roof, and the first of its kind singular property sustainability report. The Toronto-Dominion Centre was recognized with The 2017 Outstanding Building of the Year (TOBY) Award from the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) International.

David's 17 years in the industry have provided him with a wide and resourceful perspective on the many issues and opportunities facing property owners and managers.
