

BOMEX 2017 – Education Series

Panelist

Demitrius Marshall, Vice President of Technology and Professional Services at RYCOM Corporation

Demitrius Marshall is Vice President of Technology and Professional Services at RYCOM Corporation. Demitrius' passion for technologies and their real-world application drives him to develop innovative solutions that exceed business expectations and solve problems before they occur. With over 15 years of experience, Demitrius is responsible for the long-term technical direction of RYCOM Corporation and leads the company's technologists to implement best-in-class market solutions and services. Demitrius brings to his role the knowledge and vision to evolve with the ever-changing pace of business and serves as a trusted advisor who is truly invested in the success of your business.