Panelist

Neal Jardine, Loss Adjuster at Crawford & Company (Canada) Inc

Neal Jardine has over a decade of experience, both domestically and internationally, adjusting property and casualty claims. Accepting a role with Crawford & Company in Australia, he was deployed to respond to commercial and personal property claims arising from that country's catastrophic urban flooding, and stayed for nearly a year adjusting some of the most contentious commercial losses.

Returning to Canada, Neal focused on Commercial and Industrial losses in Southern Ontario as a member of the Toronto Global Technical Services (GTS) team. Benefitting from their mentorship as well as educational opportunities, Neal is now a recognized expert by many clients for whom he manages complex, large commercial industrial property; Builder's Risk; and Wrap-Up Liability claims.

With the emerging risk of cyber-attacks facing his clients, Neal has built on his Computer Science degree and furthered his abilities to manage a growing number of cyber risk events and claims for commercial clients and insurers. His education in computer science and practical knowledge of network administration has allowed him to fully comprehend the risks and best respond to his clients.
