

2021 ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Goal

The Elaina Tattersdale Sustainability Champion Award aligns with BOMA Canada's efforts to reduce consumption of resources, boost recycling and enhance wellness within commercial real estate. This special award is aimed to encourage those in the industry to improve the environmental footprint that commercial and institutional buildings have on our world. The award acknowledges the outstanding efforts and achievements of the "unsung heroes" who are championing sustainability at any level within their organization and/or across the commercial real estate community.

About Elaina Tattersdale

A young real estate professional and mother of two daughters, Elaina was an enterprise project manager for Canada-based real estate firm, Morguard Investments prior to passing in 2019. Her dream was to improve the impact buildings have on our environment by promoting sustainability initiatives. To honor that dream, Elaina's parents, Rick and Cheryl Gray (QuadReal Property Group and Past BOMA Canada Chair's Award Winner) generously funded the establishment of the BOMA Canada Elaina Tattersdale Sustainability Champion Award.
