Building relationships with all levels of government is always a priority.

Hello friends,

2023 marked a year of unprecedented success with the introduction of BOMA BEST Smart, a new questionnaire for BOMA BEST Sustainable, the launch of the BOMA BEST Hub, another sold-out BOMEX, multiple Canadian wins at the BOMA International TOBY Awards and a renewed Partnership and Sponsorship program. If 2023 was about building a new foundation, 2024 is going to be about expanding our infrastructure to sustain the new growth we are planning.

In 2024, thought leadership and education, one of our pillars, will be front and centre. As always, we will leverage the collective expertise of the industry to create content that will inform and drive change. BOMEX Vancouver 2024, our industry's national conference, will build on the success and sellouts of PEI in 2022 and Edmonton in 2023. Our flagship BOMA BEST program, newly empowered, will help lead market transformation and encourage smart and sustainable solutions for existing buildings by promoting health, efficiency, cost-effectiveness, and low-carbon performance. And we will definitely have a few surprises which we are not quite ready to announce.

It's going to be an exciting year.

BOMA GIVES BACK: Community Comes First

Supporting the treatment and care of mental health has never been more critical. That was why our entire BOMA community was focused on making our BOMA Gives Back a success. During BOMEX Edmonton, we sold BOMA Canada Baseball Hats, with 100% of the gross proceeds going to the Edmonton chapter of the Canadian Mental Health Association. We also donated on behalf of every speaker. Thank you to everyone who contributed. Well done!

It is imperative to recognize and tackle the challenges hindering necessary progress and emphasizing the need to embrace novel approaches and build robust partnerships.

We are fostering a more profound sense of connection and a willingness to contribute to shaping the world around us. BOMA is continually looking for opportunities to connect with all levels of government to effect change.
