Message from the Chair and President & CEO

To Our BOMA Community,

As we look toward a new year in commercial real estate, our industry continues to face significant change. AI is transforming the very nature of our economy. Climate change is impacting our buildings. Tenants are demanding more. Trade wars are threatening our supply chains. Operating expenses are rising.

All this change can feel disruptive, but it also reminds us of the important duty we all play in strengthening the places where we all live, work, and gather. And that duty depends on strengthening ourselves, our organizations and our industry.

Our job, at BOMA, is to support you in this critical work.

At this moment of reflection, we are proud of our record. In 2025, we sold out yet another BOMEX, demonstrating that the desire for connecting, learning, and celebrating remains core to our industry's success. We advanced BOMA BEST as North America's leading sustainable and smart building operations certification, while extending its reach internationally. And with BOMA Enspire, we began delivering $24.9M in funding to mid-tier buildings for deep retrofits.

At the heart of all of these efforts and many others is a simple truth: buildings are about people. They are designed, operated and improved by the teams who show up every day with commitment, competence and care. Our job is to support those people – our members – because when you succeed, our buildings perform better, our tenants thrive, and our communities prosper.

BOMA Canada is therefore fundamentally a partnership with our members. We tend not to lead from the front. Instead, we aim to find ways that help drive our community forward together.

As we head into a new year, we at BOMA Canada are genuinely grateful for the trust you place in us, for the energy you devote to us and for the feedback you provide to us. We also thank all our partners, including our eleven Local Associations across our country, who continue to show up and work alongside us. We get stronger together. Thank you for being part of this journey.

PROGRAMS

BOMA BEST, BOMEX, BOMA Gives Back, ENSPIRE, 100,000 Trees

The BOMA BEST community continues to grow as stakeholders seek practical, lasting solutions, empowering buildings to benchmark performance, celebrate progress, and strengthen the built environment.

BOMA BEST
SMART

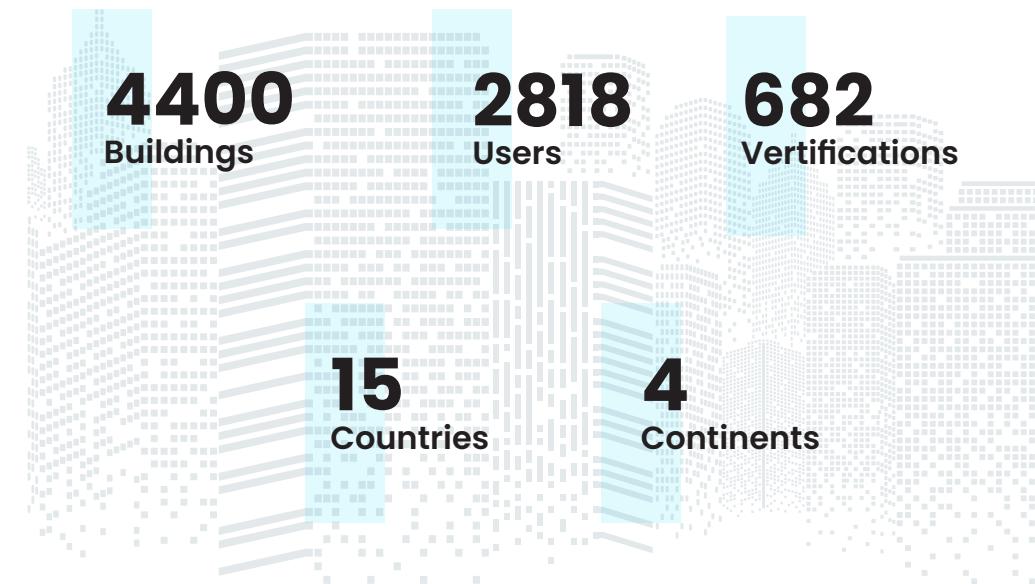

BOMA BEST By the Numbers

BOMA BEST continues to set the standard for smart and sustainable building operations. This year, more properties across Canada, the United States, and beyond invested in BOMA BEST to guide and validate their performance, resulting in growing numbers of certified buildings, enrolled properties, and total square feet under certification.

By combining practical tools, clear performance benchmarks, and third-party verification, BOMA BEST helps owners and managers embed sustainability and smart practices into everyday operations. Our network of trained verifiers and delivery partners supports local markets while maintaining a consistent, credible framework for measuring results.

From energy and water to health, resilience, and occupant experience, BOMA BEST gives real estate teams a roadmap for continuous improvement.

2025 Recap

BOMA BEST BUILDING CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Today's buildings face growing climate, regulatory, and operational risks. Owners and managers are turning to BOMA BEST to turn sustainability practices into practical risk mitigation by focusing on reliability, continuity, and preparedness across their portfolios.

Through structured assessments and third-party verification, the program supports teams in identifying vulnerabilities, strengthen business continuity, while using performance data to anticipate issues before they become disruptions. By embedding resilience into everyday operations, BOMA BEST helps protect asset value, support tenant confidence, and keep buildings ready for what comes next.

25 York Street, owned and managed by Menkes Developments Ltd., became the first building to attain a perfect score on the BOMA BEST Sustainable 4.0 certification. Achieving Platinum with the highest score recorded globally for an office tower, this result reflects years of dedicated work by the Menkes team and their commitment to best-in-class building performance.

This milestone is more than a technical achievement. It demonstrates what is possible when operations, sustainability, tenant experience, and long-term asset strategy are aligned around a clear framework.

BOMEX Halifax 2025

BOMEX Halifax 2025 saw a record-breaking turnout with over 700 delegates, selling out for the fourth year in a row. This milestone reflects not only the event's rising profile but an industry eager for meaningful connection, collaboration, and education. BOMEX Halifax created a welcoming atmosphere that said, "You're here, and you belong," and we couldn't be prouder of that. We're grateful to all our delegates, speakers, and dedicated volunteers.

This year introduced new educational offerings, including the ENSPIRE stream, BOMI ShortCourse, and Braindate, which encouraged meaningful one-on-one conversations. A special thank you to our sponsors for their support, and to our local host partner, BOMA Nova Scotia, for helping make this event possible.

Making a Difference, Together

We are committed to fostering positive mental health in every community where BOMA operates. At BOMEX Halifax, we raised funds for the Canadian Mental Health Association Nova Scotia Division through merchandise sales and speaker donations, donating 100% of the proceeds. Thank you to everyone who contributed.

Mental Wellness and Resilience

Everybody has mental health. When we are generally able to handle life's highs and lows, we might say our mental health is good, or that we are experiencing mental wellness. Here are some examples of activities that have been proven to have a positive impact on mental health:

Self-Care

- Reflection: How can I benefit and strengthen my future self?

Meaningful Connection

- Reflection: What helps me feel connected?

Journaling

- Reflection: What journaling prompt could I answer right now?

Nature

- Reflection: How can I get more connected with nature today?

Gratitude

- Reflection: What am I grateful for today?

Movement

- Reflection: How can I get more movement into my day?

Since its launch one year ago, building owners, managers, and service providers across every province and territory in Canada have enrolled, with the program seeing strong success as both funding initiatives were oversubscribed and hundreds of projects move toward completion.

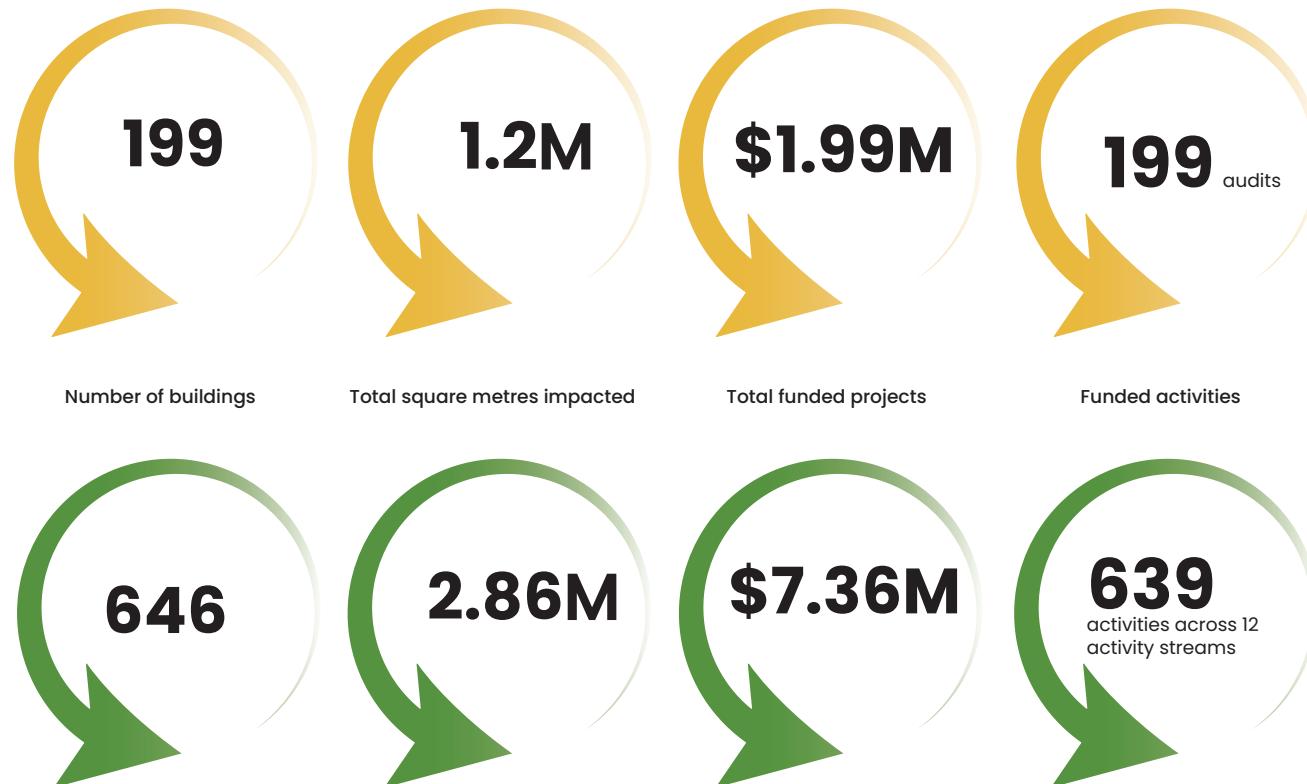

BOMA Enspire

BOMA Canada's BOMA Enspire program, funded by $24.9M from Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) under the Deep Retrofit Accelerator Initiative (DRAI), aims to support mid-tier building owners and operators in Canada to improve energy efficiency and decarbonization.

The program supports the industry through three distinct pillars: capacity building through education and knowledge sharing, funding for pre-retrofit activities, and a national awards program that recognizes leaders reducing energy use and GHG emissions.

To support regional partners and BOMA members across Canada, in 2025, the BOMA Enspire team actively participated through trade shows and speaking engagements in over a dozen industry events focused on energy efficiency and decarbonization.

BOMA CANADA 100,000 TREES

A Very Proud Moment

We're proud to share that BOMA BEST has officially reached a significant milestone – the completion of our 100,000-tree planting program. For every BOMA BEST certification, 25 trees are planted. This year, our 100,000th tree planted. It's a tangible reminder that operational excellence and environmental impact are synonymous.

This milestone belongs entirely to the building owners and managers who believe in BOMA BEST and choose to invest in better-performing buildings. Your commitment, leadership, and trust made this possible. Every certification represented a decision to do better, and collectively, those decisions have created a lasting impact well beyond individual buildings.

ADVOCACY

Committees

We believe in the power of collective action and take a proactive role in advancing policies that address complex challenges and support both our members and the broader industry.

Ongoing, Regular Advocacy Engagement

There are times when our role is to empower leaders to drive impactful change, at other times, it's to cultivate collaboration with a shared industry-wide vision. What we are always striving for is a standard for excellence in processes, culture, and sustainable progress.

This is a continuous journey that we cannot take alone, so we work with others and use our sustainable mission to move us forward. This includes participating in committees, volunteering in associations and participating in key national dialogues. Our advocacy priorities are shaped by a variety of considerations, which include the committees we are involved in.

Our active commitment includes:

Association of Energy Engineers (AEE)	American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air Conditioning, Engineers (ASHRAE)	BOMI Education	Building Decarbonization Alliance (BDA)	Building Operators Designation (BOD)
Promote energy efficiency and professionals	Advancing HVAC&R industry standards globally	BOMA International, Real estate management education and certification	A stakeholder to advance decarbonization	Recognizing professional building operators

Canadian Construction Association (CCA)	Canada Green Building Council (CAGBC)	Climate Risk Institute (CRI)	CREW Network	CSA Group
Advocating for Canada's construction industry	Promoting sustainable building practices in Canada	Addressing change adaptation capacity	Advancing women in commercial real estate	Developing standards for safety and innovation

Efficiency Canada	Global Real Estate Sustainability Benchmark (GRESB)	National Association for Industrial and Office Parks (NAIOP)	Real Property Association of Canada (REALPAC)	Royal Architectural Institute of Canada (RAIC)

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

Industry Challenges, Emerging Leaders, Guides and Reports,
Webinars, Speaking Engagements, Collective Power of BOMA

BOMA acts as a catalyst for a more sustainable and inclusive future, bringing the industry together through open dialogue and initiatives that support meaningful, lasting progress.

What's Keeping Our Industry Up at Night?

The real estate industry is always at the forefront of change, both leading innovation and adapting to new challenges while finding ways to seize opportunities.

AI and its impact on the industry

The integration of artificial intelligence into commercial real estate and building operations presents transformative opportunities alongside significant considerations that demand careful examination. Understanding how AI will fundamentally reshape these sectors requires exploration of both its most substantial benefits and its inherent risks and limitations.

Signs of renewal

The shift back to office-based work is backed by CEOs steadfast in their support of pre-pandemic ways of working, with a majority (64% globally and 63% in the UK) predicting a full return to in-office work within the next three years. And 87% of CEOs (83% in the UK) surveyed express a likelihood of linking financial reward and promotion opportunities to a return to in-office working practices.

Urban life rebounds

As Canadian urban centers grapple with post-pandemic transformation, critical questions emerge regarding the future of our downtown cores. The current state of Canada's downtowns demands comprehensive examination, which may offer valuable insights into successful revitalization strategies.

EMERGING LEADERS

Emerging Leaders

Earlier this year, BOMA Canada released the 2025 BOMA Canada Emerging Leaders Industry Survey Report. The findings from these innovators, entrepreneurs and professionals were as enlightening as they were inspiring, and as the Emerging Leaders discussed their experience and their ideas, the one thing that came through loud and clear was the pride they all feel in this profession.

With that, BOMA Canada was proud to further discuss these findings at BOMEX earlier this year in our Emerging Leaders presents mainstage event. We're committed to helping the next generation of leaders develop skills, gain experience, and build expertise to advance your career and shape the future of commercial real estate.

We encourage emerging leaders to embrace diverse perspectives and celebrate what makes each member unique. You'll feel empowered to ask why, challenge the status quo, and present innovative ideas.

BOMA BEST Buildings Report 2025

We were thrilled to launch the BOMA BEST 2025 Buildings Report, a look at how top buildings across the globe are redefining performance, raising the bar on operational excellence, and leading the way through an era of rapid, relentless change.

This year's report, developed in partnership with Ernst and Young (EY), reveals a critical shift: the most successful buildings don't just perform efficiently, they're prepared to withstand disruption and adapt to changing conditions. Through smart technology and strategic planning, these buildings are connecting sustainability with resilience and long-term asset value.

What's Next for the Industry

The commercial real estate landscape is evolving faster than ever. From AI building management tools to enhanced wellness standards and heightened security, staying ahead requires insights and practical tools.

BOMA Canada worked alongside its members to provide the resources needed to adapt and thrive. Throughout 2025, we delivered practical guidance through publications like our Commercial Real Estate and Wellness guide, Six Areas Where AI is Changing commercial real estate, and our Safety and Security guide and checklist.

These changes are happening across our industry, and we're grateful to contribute alongside our members as we all navigate what's next in commercial real estate.

Individual Recognition

In October, Lisa Baroldi, President & CEO of BOMA Edmonton and North, was awarded the Sustainability Trailblazer Impact Award at the CREW Network gala in Austin, Texas, a prestigious global recognition for exceptional leadership and measurable impact in the commercial real estate industry.

Lisa's work spanning environmental leadership, social innovation, and governance transformation does not go unnoticed.

Congratulations Lisa!

Congratulations to BOMA Canada, Director of Stakeholder Engagement, Krista Chambers, on her appointment as Vice Chair of Toronto CREW 30th Anniversary Committee. This role is a testament to Krista's commitment to creating opportunities for women and diverse professionals in commercial real estate, work that doesn't just check boxes, but opens doors.

Through her involvement with Toronto CREW, Krista has built meaningful connections and created spaces where individuals can find mentorship, support, and the confidence to chart their own paths forward.

Well done Krista!

Individual Recognition

Congratulations to BOMA Canada Chair and Executive Vice President at Avison Young, Neil Lacheur, for receiving the 2025 Henry H. Chamberlain Award for Leadership. This prestigious award, established by BOMA International in 2024, recognizes leaders who have made an enduring impact on the commercial real estate industry.

Neil embodies every aspect of this recognition. He is a strategic thinker and respected voice in the industry, a passionate advocate, mentor, and community builder.

Excellent work Neil!

BOMA Canada President & CEO, Benjamin Shinewald, was awarded the prestigious King Charles III Coronation Medal. Nominated by the Rick Hansen Foundation, this distinguished honour recognizes individuals who have made significant contributions to Canada.

Benjamin is the first to highlight that this award reflects the collective efforts of a membership dedicated to advancing sustainability and accessibility by improving the built environment one building at a time.

Fantasic work, Benjamin!

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Grew our Decarb Accelerator (program to support building decarbonization efforts) to over 50 building participants across the province, representing 11M square feet and identified measures for most buildings that reduce their gas and steam usage by 30-100%. Following years of BOMA advocacy for fair and equitable property taxation, Vancouver City Council passed a motion in 2025 directing staff to present a budget with a 0% property tax increase. Launched a second annual golf tournament, based on member and sponsor demand, which sold out. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Released the BOMA Calgary Downtown Safety Report that summarizes three years of incident tracking survey data. This report and data provide industry and decision makers with on-the-ground facts to drive policy change. The survey is currently back in the field for Year 4 data. Created and delivered the BOMA Calgary Careers Guidebook, a one-stop-shop for those already in the industry as well as newcomers. In 2026 and beyond, the guide will be expanded throughout the country, in partnership with BOMA Canada. Completed a revised Strategic Plan that puts our committees at the heart of the organization, with tools to grow and continue serving the industry. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Achieved many advocacy successes, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Leading local business community advocacy for post-COVID government return to office policy, culminating in the October 2025 decision by the Government of Alberta to end hybrid work. Supported the hotly-debated Community Revitalization Levy (CRL) Program, enabling the OEG Development Group to obtain municipal and provincial funding for the next phase of the ICE District. Persuaded City of Edmonton to pass the public spaces bylaw, which cracks down on open drug use and loitering in transit stations. Revamped our education program, awards program, sponsorship program and annual publication (now called Square Footage by BOMA), better energizing and engaging members and driving revenue. BOMA Edmonton and North, and its President and CEO, Lisa Baroldi, received the Sustainability Trailblazer Award from CREW Network in Austin. (Earlier in the year, the organization rebranded from "BOMA Edmonton" to "BOMA Edmonton and North" as part of its inclusion goals and to mark the association's 60th anniversary. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Delivered in-person Education Days in both Saskatoon and Regina, bringing together commercial real estate professionals with industry vendors, service providers, and subject-matter experts. These events created valuable networking opportunities and showcased solutions that support efficient and innovative building operations across Saskatchewan. Welcomed a new Executive Director, bringing renewed energy, leadership, and strategic focus to support member value, advocacy, and organizational development. Supported and participated in this year's Saskatchewan Real Estate Forum as a sponsor and panel moderator, helping elevate industry dialogue and share insights on trends impacting our market and how BOMA Saskatchewan supports the CRE industry.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Conference, with approximately 750 CRE, construction and building professionals. The event included panel discussions, education sessions, a keynote luncheon, and full day product expo with 100+ exhibitor booths. Added to the 2025 Industry Compensation Report to our publications, which already include the annual BOMA Manitoba Building Directory and the quarterly BOMA INSIDER Magazine. We are also in the process of completing our first ever BOMA Preventive Maintenance Guidebook, due in Q4. Undertook our third offering of BOMA International's Foundations of Real Estate Management® course, led by senior CRE professionals within the BOMA membership. Offered over six in-person sessions, the course includes both classroom instruction and building tours. Foundations course graduates can also register for their first BOMI certificate with no enrollment fee. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Sold out the eighth annual BOMA Toronto CREST Awards, with over 200 attendees. We received the most submissions in program history, with over 4,000 buildings sharing emissions data. Launched two new initiatives, the Operations Advisory Council, and the Allied Advisory Council. Members of our Mentorship Advisory Council and Emerging Leader Committee jointly hosted a pilot Professional Development Session exclusively for Emerging Leaders. The event sold out in an hour and will become an annual value-added offering. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Served as a foundational supporter of the Ottawa Mission's Maintenance Services Training Program (MSTP), a groundbreaking initiative providing hands-on training and employment pathways for individuals seeking a second chance through meaningful careers in building maintenance and operations. Recognizing the program's potential to address both labour shortages and social reintegration, BOMA Ottawa is moving to establish the MSTP Angels Network, a coalition of industry partners committed to supporting graduates through mentorship, equipment donations, and employment opportunities. Played a pivotal leadership role in the Downtown Implementation Group, collaborating with stakeholders including the City of Ottawa, the Ottawa Board of Trade, Ottawa Tourism and local business leaders to develop actionable strategies to re-energize the city's core. BOMA Ottawa brings the industry's perspective on adaptive reuse, office-to-residential conversions, and investment incentives to attract employers, residents, and visitors downtown. The resulting recommendations aim at shaping a more vibrant, economically resilient, and inclusive downtown Ottawa. Actively contributed to the City of Ottawa's Housing Innovation Task Force, ensuring the commercial real estate industry's expertise informed efforts to tackle Ottawa's housing crisis. BOMA representation advanced practical solutions around zoning reform, financing models, and the repurposing of underused commercial properties for residential use. National Advisory Council

BOMA Canada's National Advisory Council (NAC), proudly sponsored by QuadReal, is a premier network of senior commercial real estate leaders, typically drawn from the C-suite of Canada's largest national commercial and institutional real estate organizations.

NAC members are strategic thinkers responsible for asset management, property management, and building operations, who come together to guide BOMA Canada, form a high-level industry leadership network, and create a forum for discussing emerging issues shaping the future of commercial real estate.
